C. P. R. Officials Here

Pearce Street Crossing Not to be Opened.

Wetaskiwin was officially visited Tuesday morning last by Mr. J. S. Dennis and Mr. Jamieson, of the C. P. R. Calgary division, to confer with the council regarding the matter of street crossings and the construction of the spur to the electric light power house. They arrived at an early hour, their private car being attached to the freight, and after their inspection left on the morning passenger. They were both very favorably impressed with the appearance of the town, and judging from their conversation and assurance Wetaskiwin need have no fear of the future.

No trouble whatever was experienced in the location of the spur, as it will be constructed from a point near the north switch to the power house. The work will be commenced at an early date.

When the question of opening up Pearce street crossing came under discussion Mr. Dennis said it would be impossible for the reason that there are at the present three lines of railway to cross, and the time was not very far distant when a fourth line would have to be added to accommodate the increasing traffic. He stated that when the branch line began operation and the present line between Calgary and Strathcona became one of their main lines, the traffic would be so increased that trains would be arriving nearly every hour of the day. The opening of the Pearce street crossing would mean endless annoyance and inconvenience to the company and a constant danger to the public. In corroboration of Mr. Dennis' statement, Mr. Jamieson said he "would strongly oppose any action on the part of the company to open the Pearce street crossing, as he knew from experience the difficulties the company would have to encounter. Actions for damages to the public would constantly be springing up."

In reply to a query as to what action the company would take regarding the closing of Laundown street, Mr. Dennis said the street would have to be closed, for the same reasons that Pearce street would not be opened. The length of the trains would be increased next year, and a train stopping at the station would block Laundown crossing.

When the matter of opening Stanley street crossing was mentioned, the officials wanted to know how the townspeople would look upon the opening of Oster street instead, and did not commit themselves to anything definite.

A representative of The Times asked Mr. Jamieson whether the company intended making Wetaskiwin a division point and whether car-repair shops would be installed here, to which he replied that at least an engine house would be built and a superintendent and several railway employees would be located here.

The Mayor and Council strongly pleaded in behalf of the interests of the town, but time will reveal the intentions of the company in the matter.

Council Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Council was held on Wednesday evening. Present: Mayor McKay, Councillors, McEachern, Gould, Finch, West and Swobole.

Accounts to the amount of $1737.02 were approved and on motion of McEachern-Gould—were passed for payment.

On motion of West-Swobole—The Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to pay the demands of the public and separate school boards for the current year. The demands of the public school are $4221 and the demands of the separate school $1200.

The Council then adjourned until Saturday evening.

HILGARTNER—Near Wetaskiwin, on the 16th ult., to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hilgartner, a daughter.

McGARRITY—At Conjugate Lake, on the 23rd ult., to Mr. and Mrs. John McGarrity, a daughter.

Fra Diavolo

The Beggar Prince Opera Company appeared in Angus Opera House on Monday evening last before a good and appreciative audience. This is the company that made such a great hit at the Edmonton and Calgary exhibitions last summer. The company is the best that has yet appeared before a Wetaskiwin audience and the hearty applause from time to time showed the high appreciation in which the clever acting was held. A strong feature of the company is the singing each member of the troupe possessing an excellent voice, and the many choruses rendered throughout the play were certainly a treat. We will not attempt to specialize as the members of the company are all artists and took their difficult parts splendidly. The company is handled by Manager Wm. Cranston of the B. C. and Alberta Theatrical Circuit, and is the largest organization in the Northwest Territory, being composed of sixteen specialists. Wetaskiwin is now in both Mr. Cranston's and Mr. C. P. Walker's circuits and the theatre goers of town may expect some high-class entertainments over the season ends. Let them all come. The people of Wetaskiwin appreciate good opera and will patronize them.

McVicar-McQueen

It has been rumored for some time past that the ranks of the Red Deer bachelors was to be depleted by the loss of one of the business men. However, a short time ago Opdell with his charming air captured the last stronghold of general John McVicar's heart and he surrendered unconditionally. Yesterday, he journeyed to Lacombe and took unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Mary McQueen. The bride is well known in Red Deer having lived here until a short time previous to her marriage and went to stay at the McQueen's in that town where the wedding took place. Rev. Mr. White of Lacombe officiated. Mr. and Mrs. McVicar will take up their residence on Alexandra Ave., Red Deer. The many friends of the bride and groom wish them all joy and prosperity.—Red Deer Advocate.

McVicar is a former resident of Wetaskiwin and his many friends here join in extending congratulations.

Church Chimes

Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Methodist church Sunday morning next.

Special services were held in the Swedish Lutheran church Sunday last both morning and evening by Revs. Lundgren and Randall and Mr. Lundgren, from Minnesota. Communion was celebrated after the forenoon services. In the afternoon the same gentlemen addressed the Sunday school. These reverend gentlemen are on a missionary tour.

Take a silver dollar, let it drop on the table and you will notice a ring. Wear the ring yourself or give it to a friend, but send the dollar to us and we will apply it to your subscription. Another nice experiment consists in taking a one dollar bill and folding it carefully several times and then unfolding it you will notice it increases. Use the creases for Sunday tractors and send us your original bill. When you have tried these experiments we will cheerfully put you into another great scheme.

The following from the Northwest Territories Gazette is of importance to our readers—No person not being an advocate or notary public and resident in the Territories shall directly or indirectly ask for, demand or receive or take any fee or reward for drawing, settling, passing or registering a lease, mortgage, encumbrance, lease, agreement or other instrument affecting lands situate in the Territories; and any person committing a breach of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence, and on summary conviction therefor shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $10.00, exclusive of costs.

McNamara & Conroy have leased Mrs. Aylin's building, which they will convert into a store at once. The bankrupt stock which they purchased at Penhold arrived this week and will soon be on sale. The building now occupied by them has been leased to C. Bailey, jeweler, who takes possession December 1st.

On Tuesday morning last the first mail left for Duhamel, and other post offices, on the southern route under the new regulations. Hereafter all the offices served from the Wetaskiwin office will receive the mail twice a week—on Tuesdays and Fridays.

They have been on a trip through the eastern country, and had a delightful time, the weather being propitious and the game plentiful. They drove as far as Lyleminster. J. A. O'Neil Hayes, the C. P. R. land guide accompanied them.

A very pleasant Halloween party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fenner on Monday evening of this week. A large number of guests were present. Games of all kinds were indulged in, and after refreshments were served, the party dispersed at an early hour. A Children's party was also given the same evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawe.

The Canadian Northern are making preparations for a live construction work at Port Saskatchewan. And the reports state that the people of that town are jubilant over the report that the permanent right-of-way through the town has been finally determined. Surveyors are now working in town and the proposed line will pass along Inglis avenue, just between the Presbyterian and English churches, as formerly intended, or, thought to be, the course the company would adopt. This shows that the C. N. R. are going to do the right thing, and will endeavor to give the Port adequate railway facilities. We are informed on very good authority that the line now being run by the company's engineers will be extended to the crossing on the river, and that everything will be in readiness for the building of the bridge next spring.

Buffalo Bill-After Bandits

*Cody, Wyo., Nov. 2—Cowards, who came today from the posse in chase of the town robbers, who killed Cashier Mithough, of the First National Bank of Cody yesterday, brought news that the outlaws are still at large.

After a battle with the bandits last night, the outlaws fled into the hills, and the posse went for fresh horses, provisions, ammunition and guides.

In the light no one was hit.

Captain Cody (Buffalo Bill) and his party will reach Cody tonight and join in the chase.

Of Interest to Farmers

Many western farmers are viewing the question of hog raising in a more favorable light than formerly. The bacon trade is one of Canada's strong live stock industries, and the West can profitably branch out on a fairly extensive scale by breeding and feeding for the bacon export trade. Pig do well in the west. They winter well without expensive buildings; in fact, a few stout poles, set together in the form of a log house, with a space for a door, and covered with a straw stack, gives excellent results. A number of suitable pens would be needed for farming time, yet the whole outfit for six or seven brood sows need not be costly. Coarse and inferior grains are abundant and cheap and in many cases it does not pay to ship the lower grades as grain, yet, by converting into bacon the value of higher grades is received for an inferior article. Again, the fertility of the land is sustained or improved, instead of gradually depreciating by the use of the land for crop raising. In the great wheat districts we scarcely expect many to go to pig raising, however, here and there a man may see the advantage of converting feed wheat into bacon on his own farm, rather than have that feed hauled several hundred miles before it is put to a similar use. Barley makes excellent pig food, and by occasionally sowing a crop of it on your wheat land, you increase the yield of the following wheat crop, for the reason that barley and wheat draw different proportions of the same elements of plant food from the soil. Another advantage of changing varieties of cereals is that the many weeds seem best adapted to thrive with some one of the cereals and by changing your help to a certain extent, in keeping your land clean. When pigs are kept, more foliage plants should be grown, which would give a better rotation of crops, thus helping to keep the land clean, and adding to its fertility at the same time. Rape, perhaps, will be found in the best foliage plant for swine feed in the west. Alfalfa and alfalfa clover are doing fairly well in some places; the Turkish variety is the hardest of the alfalfa. Wherever clover will do well, have a patch by all means for your hogs. Fall wheat, or perhaps, better still, fall rye, makes excellent spring pasture in sections, where these crops are successful. After they have served their purpose, plow up and sow the rape. Of course a patch of rape for early feeding should be sown as early as possible in spring. Every pig raised should grow some peas. Peas do well in most places in the west, the chief trouble being the difficulty of harvesting where the ground is level, and the wind strong. However, a fair-sized potato patch to turn your hogs on about harvest time would be found exceedingly profitable, especially if you have a rape patch now, by which the pigs could have free access to both. This combination would prove about ideal for fattening, and we recommend it to all pork raisers. Another advantage which bacon producers have in the West is that there is a good market for large fat hogs in the B. C. lumber and mining camps and also among the Indians, so that after you are through with your sows and bars (make stage of them), there is a fair market for them when fat—Farmers Advocate.

Market for Territorial Horses

Last year an attempt was made to organize an Annual Territorial Auction Sale of horses along the lines of the per-bred cattle sale held annually at Calgary, which has proven so successful. After consulting the majority of the larger breeders throughout the Territories, it was found that some objection existed to putting their horses up to public sale. The opinion seemed to prevail that while selling purebred cattle by public sale might be entirely feasible, owing to the fact that an inspection of the animal, coupled with the reading of the pedigree in the published catalogue would greatly assist the buyer in the selection of the average buyer would require, the case is entirely different with horses. The amount of labor that has been devoted to handling and educating a horse is an important item and can best be explained by the owner himself. Certainly an auctioneer could not within reasonably limited time do justice to the subject as convincingly as the owner himself could. Other objections exist against the auction sale system of horses on a large scale at the present time which it is not necessary to go fully into. It is, however, conceded on all sides that the breeding of horses ought to be one of the leading industries of the Territories, and also that the difficulty in obtaining a satisfactory cash market, at least for the lighter classes of horses, is one of the most serious obstacles under which the industry is at present laboring. Under the circumstances the directors of the Territorial Horse Breeders' Association, at a meeting recently held, had another plan under consideration, which it is believed will fully meet the case.

Arrangements have been completed for the holding at Calgary, in the third week of March, 1902, a three days' "Horse Fair," under the auspices of the association and the Dominion and Territorial Departments of Agriculture. The event will be thoroughly advertised in Eastern Canada, Manitoba and the Territories, and not the slightest difficulty is anticipated in gathering buyers enough to absorb all the horses entered for the fair. Over 100 horses are already in sight, and every effort will be made to have at least 300 on the grounds.

The object of the fair is to bring buyer and seller together, and all deals will be made privately in the same manner as at all the large live stock centres in the United States. Outside buyers are generally deterred from purchasing in the west owing to a lack of knowledge of the country and the time and trouble and expense involved in visiting individual ranches to make up carloads. The annual horse fair will solve this difficulty effectively and, therefore, with the support of the breeders, bound to be a success.

Teachers' Convention

On Thursday afternoon, 20th ult., the teachers of the northern half of Central Alberta (Mr. J. P. Boyce's Inspectorate) met in convention at Ponoka. As usual, it rained. Following the arrival of the train from the south, at 2 p.m., fifty-ages to the number of one hundred and fifty, assembled in a room of the Ponoka Public School, made inviting by pictures and black-board drawings. Before the convention was called to order, by direction of Mr. Boyce, those present mingled freely thereby getting well acquainted.

The first paper on the program was one by Miss Major, of Wetaskiwin, on Manual Training. Several of the best historic authorities were given in support of its educational value, and resolutions were to be taken on the time-table for two or three lessons per week. The subject was only in its infancy. It was objective, led to closer observation of nature, more correct seeing, repeated creation and gave the child something to do. Paper, card-board, and clay were the best material for younger pupils, but wood and iron for older ones. Plasticine had the advantage of being always ready for use, but clay for keeping the models.

Some discussion followed in which Inspector Boyce expressed his high appreciation of the paper, and thought that the subject might be introduced into rural schools for an hour's work on Fridays. To illustrate the method pursued Miss Major had a clay model of a wall-nut in plasticine, which was most interesting process to both the children working and the teachers present.

Then followed Mr. Manning with his paper on grammar. He departed from the usual form of presenting subjects to conventions, for instead of a formal paper he had prepared a number of pointed questions calculated to arouse discussion. The idea was a new one and proved a success. The (Continued on page 5)

One Hundred Indians Die.

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—Word was received from Selkirk last night to the effect that scarlet fever had been out in the neighborhood of Norway House and is killing off the Indians there with great rapidity.

The disease first appeared about five weeks ago. Fifteen deaths were reported the first week, and about double this number during the second week. The messenger who brought down the news reported that it was rumored there when he left that practically a whole tribe of one hundred had died from the fever, which was spreading rapidly in all directions.

Indians fleeing from the infected district spread the disease. All the summer vague reports have been coming down from the far north to the effects that Indians were suffering great destitution from want of food, deer and fur-bearing animals being very scarce and starvation has brought on disease.

Smallpox is said to be killing off large numbers of Indians on the southern shores of Hudson's Bay.

A paper and class on oral reading by Miss Brown, of Wetsakiwin, came next. Abstract subjects were uninteresting to young pupils, what they needed was the experiences of every day life, conversation being especially attractive. A bright, short poem was copied on the board to illustrate, and the improvement in the expression of the class as the feeling of the selection was unfolded, evidenced the good work.

The last paper was one on History by Mr. Carruthers, principal of Lacombe school. He pointed out how by study of the past of the human race we killed prejudice and developed true patriotism, not jingoism, judgment, sympathy, sense of right and wrong and a power to abstract knowledge from books.

The question drawer came last. This was in charge of Mr. Boyce, who unravelled many of the perplexities that beset a teacher in the "daily round a common task" of his calling.

The convention came to close at 1 p. m. Expressions were heard on all sides that the convention had been a most enjoyable, educative and successful one in every way—one of the best ever held in the Territories.

We are glad to announce that the Western General Electric Co. has completed the installation of its splendid equipment at the power house and all is now in readiness for duty. The superb outfit for the telephone central opposite the Post office is being installed and will be connected in a day or so. Red Deer now possesses electric lighting and telephone systems that are unequalled in the Territories; and we hope before long to include water works in the same connection.—Red Deer Advocate.

One of the most important deals in the ranch industry of Alberta was closed in Calgary Saturday when H. O. Roberts, a Montanan rancher of extended interests, purchased the McDougale property, 5 miles west of Olds. Mr. Roberts is bringing in 8,500 head of Texas long horns. They are being driven overland by 16 men. David McDougale's ranch comprises 8,100 acres of the finest range in Alberta. A large part of it is undeveloped.
